ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An apparatus (10) for processing media contains microcapsules (46) which contain a first segmented rupturing roller (110) having multiple roller segments. A second segmented rupturing roller (112) has multiple roller segments. The roller segments on the first segmented rupturing roller are offset from roller segments on the second rupturing roller. The multiple roller segments rupture unexposed microcapsules (40) in the media.